TEACHERS OUTLINE LEGISLATION PLAN

WOULD PETITION FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF UNIFORM RIGHTS

UNION SUBJECT DEBATE

Question of Unionizing Brought Before State Convention at St. Louis Today

President Ira Richardson and County Superintendent Bert Cooper returned this morning from St. Louis where they have been attending the meeting of the State Teachers' Association. Prof. Cooper reported there would be some kind of an organization formed at this meeting by the teachers but it would not be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and would not be in the nature of a union. The question of organization is being discussed at the meeting held today in that city.

St. Louis, Nov. 8.—The most important session of the Missouri State Teachers convention was scheduled for today, when plans for the next year were to be mapped out, action looking toward salary increases for teachers was to be taken and radical changes in school legislation was to be discussed.

It was expected this morning that the question of unionizing the teachers of the public schools in the state would cause debate of considerable heat, as there appeared to be a distinct division between delegates favoring and opposing affiliation of educators with organized labor.

One of the important matters before the convention was the financial report, submitted by H. A. O'Rear, chairman of the executive committee. Touching on the question of pay for many teachers during the time schools were closed as a result of the influenza epidemic, the report said:

The executive committee has throughout the years of 1918 and 1919 been considering the question of whether it would be wise to make a test case of the liability of boards of education for the payment of teachers' salaries during the time of the influenza epidemic last year. Many cases have been under investigation and it is the intention of the committee to continue the investigation, and if an entirely clear case can be found, to carry it through the supreme court of the state. This will be done in order that the rights of teachers may be thoroughly defined and understood by the [illegible]erned.

[illegible]islative report, outlining pro[illegible]s to be taken during the pe[illegible]g January 1921, provides:

T[illegible] [illegible]sociation take such steps as ma[illegible]essary for submitting by petition [illegible]next general election, two amen[illegible]s to the state constitution to pro[illegible]de for a modern appointive state board of education, removed from politics and safeguarding against periodical political changes, with power to select the state superintendent of public schools:

(2) To provide for a state wide school tax of 25 cents on the hundred dollars valuation for better support of elementary and high schools.

That the association ask the general assembly to pass laws providing the following:

Minimum wage conditioned up the preparation and experience of the teachers.

Statewide pla nfor physical education.

To make the county the unit of taxation and administration for school purposes.

That the association proceed immediately to formulate a statewide campaign for a constitutional amendment allowing rural schools to vote $1 for school purposes.

That the association pledge itself to support the new constitutional association in its efforts to secure constitutional convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Moore, living near Ravenwood, announce the birth of a daughter, Friday.

CASE NOT SO BAD AS FIRST STATED

CASPER SHERIFF ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

TWO DEPUTIES ALSO HELD

On Charge of Attempted Murder—Martin and Armstrong Had No Guns In the Battle, It Is Said

Casper, Wyo., Nov. 8.—Sheriff Pat Royce and Deputy Sheriff W. Kilgore, leaders of the raid last Sunday on a cache in which a gang of bootleggers, of which Charles Moore of Omaha is alleged to be the leader, held $25,000 worth of whisky, were arrested yesterday charged by Prosecuting Attorney W. H. Patton with assault on Hugh Armstrong, Moore's alleged chief lieutenant.

Patton accuses Royce and Kilgore with having brutally beaten Armstrong after he had surrendered and was an unresisting prisoner. Royce and Kilgore, in default of bail of $5,000 each, weer detained at the county jail. Armstrong is charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff Majors.

The following dispatch from Casper, Wyo., is from last evening's Omaha World-Herald:

Casper, Wyo., Nov. 7.—Alex Moon and George Poulos, attaches of the sheriff's office, were arrested Thursday afternoon charge of attempted murder growing out of the battle Sunday morning between officers and bootleggers in which Deputy Sheriff Tom Majors was killed and Special Deputy George McKenzie and Roy E. Martin, an alleged bootlegger, mortally wounded.

It is said that they are accused of having "tipped off" to the bootleggers the impending raid by Sheriff Royce's posse.

Charles Moore of Omaha, alleged "brains" of the bootleggers, is held on a charge of murder although he was not a participant in Sunday's battle.

According to a letter received yesterday from Mrs. Roy Martin at Casper, she writes that her husband is on the road to recovery and that the matter is not near as bad as reported in the papers. The fact was mentioned that Martin had no gun in the battle at all and the theory being presented now is that a party of robbers were after the "booze" and really did the shooting.

Mrs. Orear Returns.

Mrs. E. G. Orear returned last night from Kansas City where she was the guest for ten days of her sister, Mrs. Charles Channing Allen, and mother, Mrs. M. E. Ummethum. Mrs. Orear attended the annual state conference of the D. A. R. chapter, which was in session Oct. 28-30, in Kansas City.

MARYVILLE H. S. SCORES SIXTH VICTORY OVER TARKIO

No Spectacular Playing and the Score Is Small; Team Challenges Richmond for Thanksgiving Game

Yesterday afternoon the Maryville high school football team scored their sixth victory over the Tarkio team in a hard fought game at Tarkio, when the score was 6 to 0. The home team failed to run up a high score mostly due to fumbles. The Tarkio team is a light bunch, but exceedingly fast. The game was not spectacular at any point. French, fullback for Maryville, made the only score when he broke through Tarkio's defense in the first period for a touchdown. Maryville failed to kick goal.

This makes six straight victories for the Maryville high school and following today's game a challenge was sent to the Richmond high school for a game on Thanksgiving day to decide the championship of the Northwest Missouri High School association. Richmond also has not lost a game. The score today was the smallest the Maryville team has made against an opponent this year. The Tarkio eleven by its showing claims second place in the race. Tarkio has two open dates on its schedule and would like to arrange games with some northwest Missouri high school.

The victors were met at the train last night by a live bunch of students, who formed a parade to celebrate the event.

Expected Crisis of Today Failed to Come; Government Stands Solid on Terms

xIndianapolis, Nov. 8.—Officials of the United Mine Workers [illegible]America must recall their order for a nation wide strike of bituminois coal miners. This was ordered here today by Judge Anderson in federal court when he granted the plea of the government for an injunction directed against the executives of the mine workers organization in an effort to break the strike of four hundred thousand soft coal miners.

Judge Anderson gave the miners officials until six o'clock next Tuesday evening to recall the strike order. Judge Anderson was further ordered that the strike recall be submitted to him for approval by ten o'clock Tuesday morning before it is sent out.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 8.—A mandatory injunction ordering the executive officers of the United Mined Workers to cancel the strike order which has caused four hundred thousand bituminous coal miners to drop their tools was asked in the federal court today by Judge Adams, assistant attorney general, after the court decided to grant the workers petition for a continuance case of one week in order to give the opposing factions an opportunity to effect an agreement. The temporary restraining order issued last week had not the effect of "undoing wrong that had been done" declared Judge Adams.

M. J. ALDERMAN TAKES HEAD OF BIG MERCANTILE STORE

Marshall People Delighted With Improvements Made and Welcome Former Maryville Merchant

The Thursday issue of the Marshall Democrat-News has the following article regarding the re-organization of the Missouri Valley stores company, of which Meril J. Alderman, formerly with the Yehle Dry Goods company of this city, has purchased the controlling interest;

For a week or more it has been known that an important change was about to take place in the management of Marshall's big department store. An interview with A. M. Keller, who has been the manager of this large mercantile interest and has by his superior business ability and progressive methods brought to its present excellent standard, reveals the fact that a new organization has taken place with M. J. Alderman, late of Maryville, president of the Missouri Valley Stores Company; A. M. Keller, vice persident and G. R. Aiken who has been the bookkeeper of the establishment for a number of years the secretary and treasurer. In the re-organization of the company several other Marshall stockholders have been taken in.

Mr. Keller has been planing for some time to make needed improvements in the building, having far outgrown the increasing business of the past fourteen years, expansion in every department was necessary and the improvements were planned and were expected to be made several years ago, but the war and its hindrances to all avenues of progress, interfered and they were postponed until the latter half of 1919. They are only partially completed and will be resumed in the spring, when the interior of the store will be made modern in every particular. The new front recently put in is quite metropolitan in appearance, with its large plate glass windows and show cases filled with the latest offerings from the ready-to wear, millinery, clothing, furniture and other departments.

The retiring manager says, with the re-organization the store enters upon an era of prosperity and growth that it has not known before. With the new improvements, which by the way, include hard wood floors through out the building, an dthose yet to be made, will make it one of the best department store sof the middle west and will continue to be one of Marshall's and Saline's brag business marts.

Mr. Alderman, who owns the controlling interest and as already stated has been made president of the company, brings to the establishment fine business ability and experience, having been reared, really in the mercantile business. He comes with the recommendation of an abiding citizen, he having lived in Maryville the greater partof his life. He was born in Savannah but his parents moved to Maryville when he was a boy, se that has been the only business home he has known and the people of his former town, doubtless regret losing the new president of Missouri Valley Mercantile Company, from its business circles as Marshall looks forward to the severence of Mr. Keller with our business, social and municipal interests as a calamity.

Mary Pickford in "The Hoodlum."

A comedy romance, with accent on Pickford's second production from her own studios, which will begin an extended engagement at the Electric theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 11 and 12.

As Amy Burke, overburdened with money and luxury as a granddaughter of the millionarie Alexander Guthrie, Miss Pickford's station in life suddenly switches to that of the tenements, where she is temporarily located with her father while he writes a book on sociology.

Tough, Tempting and Temptress.

Acquiring the knack of becoming a rowdy comes easy for Miss Pickford. In a few weeks she has developed a Bowery walk of acute swagger, an assortment of clothing which makes all the nifty Creighen street girls wild with envy, and a knowledge of slang that would make her Fifth Avenue tutor weep.

Among Amy's acquaintances in the tenements are Dish Lowry, a little chap with snaggle teeth and ingrown manners, and Peter Cooper, an old man who serves as the connecting link that brings the Burke family together in one happy assembly.

John Farnan and wife left Wednesday for Los Angles California to spend the winter. He orders the Times to visit them during their sojourn there. They will return in the spring to St. Joseph to their new home which they purchased recently.

MISS TURNER TO SPEAK AT SOCIAL WORKERS CONFERENCE

Red Cross Home Service Secretary's Work Wins High Commendation From Division Headquarters

Miss Betty Turner, secretary of the home service department of the Nodaway county Red Cross chapter, will leave tomorrow morning for Chillicothe to attend the state conference of social workers, to be held there Nov. 9 to 11. Miss Turner will be on the program at the Tuesday morning session.

The work of the home service department in Nodaway county has been the subject of very high commendation from the headquarters of the southwest division, whirh includes five states.

The request to Miss Turner to speak at the Chillicothe meeting came from Miss Fredrickson, assistant director of civilian relief, and the writer speaks highly of the work and methods employed by the home secretary. All trips made by Miss Turner in the interest of her work over the county were made by a volunteer auto corps. The letter in part is as follows:

"I have heard of the wonderful way in which you have organized your county for home service and your method of being transported from place to place. The organization of branches is one of the most difficult pieces of work the home service section have to do and I feel that what you have done is very significant. I am, therefore, taking the liberty of asking whether you would be willing to tell us of your experiences at a special home service meeting which we are to have at the State Conference of social workers, which meets at Chillicothe Nov. 9 to 11. This meeting is to be held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and will be a small group meeting, very informal, with plenty of opportunity for discussion and questions."

Married at Chillicothe

G. W. Clatter and Mrs. Mary Larrabee, both of Maryville, came to Chillicothe yesterday afternoon and secured a marriage license. They were married at the courthouse by Judge S. D. Rohrer. —Chillicothe Constitution.

Mrs. R. D. Miller and little daughter, Mary, of Otis, Colo., who were called to Maryville by the death of the former's father, L. E. Gault, which occurred October 26, left yesterday morning for their home.

Of 227 cities in the United States having estimated populations of more than 80,000, more than one-half (128) had municipal markets in 1918.

His Hearing Monday.

The preliminary hearing of Scott Campbell charged with stealing two cows, will be held Monday before Justice W. L. Johnson. The hearing was set for today.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Hotchkin entertained at 6 o'clock dinner last evening when their guests included Miss Theresa Carstens, Miss Edith Ball, Miss Juno Jones and Wilbur Allen.

REPORT OF SOY BEAN VARIETY TESTS FOR 1919

C. G. Steinsmeyer, Instructor of Agriculture at State Teachers College, Gives Interesting Data

Prof. C. G. Steinsmeyer, instructor of agriculture at the State Teachers College, has submitted the following in a report of soybean variety tests carried out on the State Teachers College farm jointly by the University of Missouri and the State Teachers College for the year 1919. The beans for forage were cut in the dough stage and the yields include both the beans and the straw. Results are given in the order of maturity—the earliest variety being first—and the yield of each variety is the average of four plats of 1-20 acre each, sown in rows three feet apart, 20 pounds to the acre.

Variety	Bushel per acre	Ton hay per acre
Ito San	17.7	1.75
Wilson	21.17	3.42
Virginia	19.58	3.37
Morse	21.16	3.41
Medium Yellow	25.62	4.05
Mikado	——	3.16

Ito San is an early variety, which accounts for its low yield. Medium Yellow, which returned the highest yield, is medium late maturing, but matures before frost and yields an excellent hay crop. This year the Mikado variety did not entirely mature before frost and the beans were too soft to give accurate results. However, the Mikado is usually considered suited to this section. The Morse, Wilson and Virginia are all excellent varieties of medium maturing qualities. The Virginia is much branched and produces a fine quality of hay, while the Morse excels in the quality of beans.

Medium Yellow soybeans were planted in 1¼ acres of corn from which $30 woreh of beans were harvested, and the beans did not lower the corn yield and added some fertility to the soil.

Soybeans are valuable not only for farm animals, and for human food as well; but also as fertilizers through fixation of nitrogen and as green manure crops; besides there is considerable demand for seed at desirable prices. Soybean straw is a valuable feed. The State Teachers College has several tons of it that farmers of the community may have if they wish to test its feed value.

The protein and oil content of soybeans is equal to that of cottonseed meal and nearly equals that of linseed meal, hence soybeans could be substituted for these feeds thereby avoiding the high prices of protein feed and at the same time enriching the soil. Repeated experiments have shown that corn does not give the best results when fed alone. Soybeans and corn form a desirable balanced ration. If grown in a corn field soybeans and the corn might be hogged down.

Fertile clay loams or sandy loams are best adapted to this crop, though it will grow on any farm soil; out on poor soils the yields naturally will be low. If a soil has never grown soybeans, innoculation is usually necessary, though in very rich soils the beans may secure their nitrogen supply direct from the soil without nitrogen fixation. Poor or indifferent growth generally indicates the lack of nitrifying bacteria. Innoculation may be effected with soil from a field growing soybeans successfully from bacterial cultures; the latter may be secured from the State University or from the United States Department of Agriculture.

As yet soybeans are not seriously infested with insect pests or plant diseases. They are excellent soil renovators and are coming to be one of Missouri's profitable crops.

You're Fired----

"I won't need a 'wash lady' any more, because my husband has just sent up an electric washing mahine from the Maryville Electric Light Office."

The Electric washer will do the hard part of the work and wash the clothes clean. You can boil them first if you wish, but it isn't necessary, because the water can be put into the machine boiling hot and it will stay that while you run out three or four washers full. You can wring and wash at the same time, or you can stop either the washer or the wringer or both with a twist of a lever.

No stooping—no rubbing—no putting your hands in hot water.

We have several kinds of machines.

SHARP TO SENATOR REED

Sedalia Chamber of Commerce Demanded Vote on Peace Treaty

Sedalia, Mo., Nov. 8.—The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, by its board of directors, wired both of the Missouri United States senators on Wednesday urging them to strive for quick action toward a definite disposal of the pending peace treaty. Senator Reed wired a reply Thursday, insisting upon being informed "whether this action was purely spontaneous, or was on the request of someone."

Today this reply was wired Senator Reed:

"The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce has always been initiative—it does not wait to follow or accept dictation from anyone. The request wired you was spontaneous—it is liable to become combustible, as our business men are very tired of the senate's wind jamming and want the peace treaty disposed of now."

Lewis William Jones was born in the state of Kentucky near Louisville, Aug. 18,1867. He and his wife were married in Andrew county, Mo. To this union were born ten children, three of whom, Dora, Laura and Etta Jones, have preceded the father to the other world. The seven living children are Fred Jones of Pattonsburg, Mrs. Lillie Murphy living near Maryville, Sophena and Catherine Jones of Graham, Mrs. Flora Lawson of Skidmore, Mrs. Flosa Force living near Graham, and Mrs. Nora Hall of Skidmore. He departed this life November 5, 1919, aged 74 years, 2 months and 18 days. He leaves to mourn his death the wife, seven children, grandchildren and a host of relatives and friends. He had lived in Graham for thirty-seven years. He was loved and respected by everyone who knew him. To the wife and children we try to share your sorrow, but we also point you to Jesus, the great burden-bearer. From our midst has gone a father, a brother, a friend, a workman, who will be missed by those who knew and loved him.

Halloween Party.

At the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Crawford, five miles southeast of Graham, was given, in genuine spookiness, witchery and art, a very complete Halloween party. The unfavorable weather and muddy roads made it necessary to postpone the affair to Saturday, November 1. However the evening proved to be a most enjoyable one, with a good moon. One could not adequately describe, in every detail, the completeness of the function from beginning to end. The guests were received at the front gate by real, live ghosts, who conveyed each lady and gentleman to the house by means of a pony and wheelbarrow. Each lady as she arrived mounted a pony and was conducted by a ghost guide through a narrow passage, between two walls of corn stalks, to the house. Each man was roughly carried in a wheelbarrow to the same destination. Here they were met by a white-clad figure, then taken to a window through which they made their entrance into the dimly lighted gues room to await the coming of the other guests. Fantastic shapes, grotesque figures, dim lights from flickering candles, pumpkin jack-o'-lanterns, black objects, cats, owls and bats gave a frightfully ghostly appearance. After all had arrived the entire party was led by two black-clad forms out of the house and around to the cave of horrors, in which each person was chilled and frightened by cold, damp objects, hideous faces, startling spiders hanging from the ceiling, rough and stumbling objects underfoot. At the end of the cave the entrance was made into the house through another window, then came each guest to the enchanted corner of the room where appropriate and weird music was heard, and a witch gave to each one a draught of chosen fruit juices. The guests then were entertained by various games, prizes being given to the contestants. Magic tricks of fortunes and future forecasts added much fun and merriment. Next came number drawing for partners for supper, after which each person proceeded to the pumpkin patch, which was arranged in the front yard, to find a numbered pumpkin containing the supper. By the moonlight and aid of flashlights the pumpkins were rightly distributed and the guests returned to the dining room, which was most beautifully and artistically arranged. The real grown pumpkins contained chicken, sandwiches, apple salad, doughnuts, popcorn, pickles, pumpkin pie, fruit salad, cake and cider. Music was enjoyed and fitful peals of laughter bespoke the keen interest and real enjoyment of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ova Goff, Elsie Davis, Velma Burns, Alice Crane, Anna Hansen, Beulah Neese, Myrtle Rasnic, Cleo Gray, Eva Troth, Ada Gray, Grace Elliott, Marie Medsker, Grace Lamar, Rose Thompson, Edna Thompson, Grace Morris, Wilma Warner, Mrs. Charles Warner, Mrs. Frank Adkins, Fay Neese, Walter Drydale, Lee Burns, Freddie Tompkins, Montie Troth, Blondy Neal, Everett Neal, Stanley Neal, Clifford Helzer, Frank Elliott, James Thrasher, Tommie Russell, Hayes McNeal, Orville Ripley, Frank McNeal, Roy McNeal, Owen Campbell, Taylor Adkins, Harold Morris, Selwyn Adkins, Eldon Adkins, Wayne Warner and Charles Warner. —Contributed.

Conception Courier.

One of the saddest incidents that has occurred in our memory was the burning of the residence of Dr. G. W. Hobbs at Clyde last Friday night. Shortly after the family had retired the alarm was given by a party of young folks who were out celebrating Halloween. The fire was discovered at about 10 o'clock and was under such headway that at 12 o'clock the house was burned to the ground. The contents of the house and cellar were saved. It was doubly hard for the family, it being the day the doctor was buried.

PLENTY OF FRESH FRUIT WILL KEEP YOU YOUNG AT 105

Doctor That Age Says Infirmity is Due to Waste Matter Collecting in Blood Vessels

London, Nov. 8.—To keep young at 105, says Dr. Josiah Oldfield, who is that age, one must have a diet which includes plenty of fresh fruit.

"Old age," says Doctor Oldfield, "is largely caused by deposits in the blood vessels and cells of the body of waste matter.

"The salts of fresh fruit especially contain the substances which dissolve these waste matters and clear out these deposits.

"So, by adopting a part fruitarian diet a person however old may become young again, because every cell in the body will be replaced by new, young cells."

Doctor Oldfield considers that every person rightly fed should live from 90 to 105 years. His diet includes:

Dandelion greens, eggs, milk, honey, grapes, lettuce, water cress and uncooked salads.
